

EMODnet

European Marine
Observation and
Data Network

News Digest

May 2019

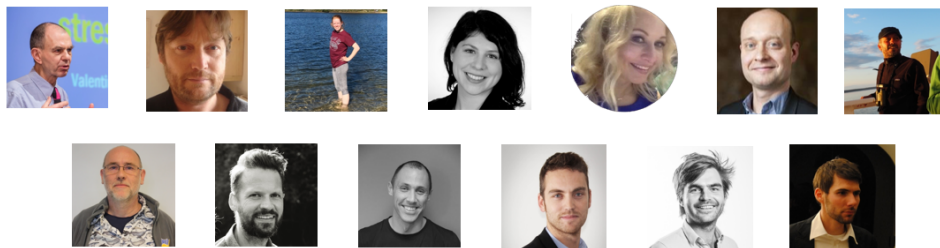

Meet our speakers! Kick-off EMODnet Open Sea Lab Hackathon

EMODnet Open Sea Lab Hackathon Kick-off

24 May 2019 14:00-17:00 CET

Programme & speakers : <http://www.opensealab.eu/kick-off-info>

On 24 May 2019 14:00-17:00 CET, join us to hear our experts in European marine data management and digital innovation explain how marine Open Data can help us tackle blue challenges!

This is your chance to learn more about EMODnet's Open Sea Lab hackathon, coming up in September 2019. Discover the Open Sea Lab concept, the challenges, and be inspired by the power of Open Data!

When & where: 24 May 2019 (14:00-17:00 CET, Royal Museums Of Fine Arts, Brussels)

Or join us live on the Web! Watch livestream

What is the EMODnet Open Sea Lab (OSL) hackathon 2019?

During a three day open data bootcamp (4-5-6 September 2019), in the vibrant and historical city of Ghent (Belgium), teams will compete and bring their expertise to develop novel marine and maritime applications to address blue society challenges using EMODnet, ICES and Copernicus Marine's wealth of marine data and services.

No previous experience or specialised skills are required! You just need to have good ideas and a spirit to work together with others. Our experts will help build your team (if you do not already have one), lead workshops and coach you to bring your innovative ideas into working solutions.

FIND OUT MORE

Prepared and published by the EMODnet Secretariat

